

ART FILM BY LILY LUDLOW
AND ALLEN CORDELL

New York painter Lily Ludlow and artist-filmmaker Allen Cordell are putting some of their favorite girlfriends on display in Sowing Circle, a video projection that will show at New York's CANADA gallery from December 11 to January 18. The film, which is the duo's third collaboration, features short vignettes that explore the homes—and psyches—of downtowners like Chloë Sevigny (seen here), Agathe Snow, and Lizzi Bougatsos. In other words, women whose worlds we've always wanted to catch a glimpse of anyway. More info at canadanewyork.com. —LUCY MADISON